"Factfulness"

Simon Bligh,
Chairman of IW Humanists

We are faced with so much negativity in the media. What is the truth? Are we living in a terrible period of human history or have 'we never had it so good' (with apologies to Harold Macmillan)?

Simon will discuss why we're wrong about the World and things are better than you think.

Based upon the work of Professor Hans Rosling, "Factfulness" can be described as the stress-reducing habit of only having opinions for which you have strong supporting facts.

Everyone welcome!
